

Faith, Values and Contributions to Community

Holy Family School provides a strong Catholic and academic learning environment. Fostering your child's academic, personal and spiritual growth. Our school community is focused on following three key elements:

REASON-

Reason is a gift from God to all mankind. Reason allows us to discern in God's light what is good and necessary in the learning process.

RELIGION-

Religion directs us to a greater good. God is central to education, learning and reason. He leads and inspires all of us to live a good and virtuous life as to attain salvation.

KINDNESS-

St. John Bosco would stress: "Let us make ourselves loved, and we shall possess their hearts." The gifts of compassion, patience, friendliness, mercy and respect are all part of kindness. All these gifts are practiced and fostered by everyone in our school.

"The community of Holy Family School is safe, welcoming, nurturing and supportive. The teaching staff is professional, dedicated and experienced with proven results—the school's intimate size ensures that each student is given individualized and personal attention. Everyone knows your child."

Parent of Recent Holy Family Graduates

"Holy Family totally prepared me for middle school and beyond. My classmates and myself were academically ready to succeed, most of us being at the top of our graduating class. We are well-rounded individuals, participating in many extra curricular activities. Holy Family School made us not only good students, but also formed us into good people with good values and morals to guide us into adulthood."

Mission Statement for Holy Family School

Holy Family Catholic School assists parents in forming their children in the Catholic faith as part of the parish's mission. The school provides excellent academics in a Christian community oriented toward the service of neighbor. The school is guided by reason, religion, and kindness, the core principles of St. John Bosco, patron saint of school-children.
